Efforts to make Panama City more green have already begun...

Why is Panama reaffirming its commitment to deforestation?

Panama is one of Central America's most densely forested countries, with 65% of its land area covered by rain forest. Since 2012, it has been losing about 8,000 hectares of forest per year due to illegal logging driven by agriculture... But the country is now reaffirming its commitment to tackle deforestation through a variety of measures.

Are electric buses better than gas buses in Panama City?

Two electric buses are already making the rounds on Panama City's streets and are proving to be quieter, more efficient, and cleaner than gas-fueled buses. Last year, MiBus (which operates the city's Metrobus line) canceled an order of 160 new diesel buses and instead bought 195 electric buses from BYD.
